

Describe a family member - Model answer 1

Introduction:

A family member means a person who is close with us such as spouse, father ,mother,child,father-in-law, mother-in-law, son -in-law or daughter-in-law. Today I am going to talk about one of my family members.

Who is this person?

The name of the person is Riya , my cousin. We both have been together since preschool. She is the only child of my mothers younger sister. We both know our weak points and strengths very well.

Describe something you have done together.

We have always done everything together, we attended the same school till class 12. Most of the time we used to study together because our tutors were also the same. We played together every day in the park close to my house because study schedules were essentially identical. Our connection deepened as we grew older.

Explain why you like this person

We have favourite family members for a variety of reasons. Some of them are enjoyable to be around , while others are understanding our issues and offering helpful counsel. Riya has always been a terrific buddy to me and has always come together for me. We have always had a close relationship because we are cousins and childhood buddies.

Conclusion

I always want to be with her. The confidence level she has that inspired me a lot, the way she tackles her problems are more impressive.

Describe a family member Model answer 2

Introduction

A family member denotes a person's spouse, child or other relatives whether they are blood ,married or not and whether or not they live with them ,are financially reliant on them or have some control over their investment. The word also covers any unconnected third party. Such as a significant other whose investments are fully or partially controlled by that person.

Who is this person?

I am living in a joint family which includes grandparents, parents, uncle, aunty, cousins, 2 sisters and myself. Out of all these people, I spend most of the time with my elder sister whose name is Rizu who is always with me no matter what happens. We use to spend lots of time together

Describe something you have done together

I would like to do everything with her. Riza is 3 years older than me, yet we still sit along well or at least most of the time. She wants to become an entrepreneur. So now she is doing some hand craft things to sell. During the lockdown time we both have done the hand craft things. I have done some small help to her.

Explain why you like that person

Sometimes she says a few things that sound extremely logical and intellectual. She is my constant reminder who never fails to lead me to put my best foot forward for whatever I do. That's why I like her more than others in my family. She is extremely special to me.

Conclusion:

If I don't feel good, she is there to motivate me. I admire her and sometimes I would like to listen to her decisions too.

Describe a family member Model answer 3

Introduction:

Family member means his or her spouse, their minor children and any relative or other person who is living with him or her (like father-in-law, mother-in-law, sister-in-law or brother-in-law). They are the closest people we have in our lives. They are the people who always stay by our side through thick and thin.

Who is this person?

In this contemporary world, some people would like to stay with their elders too. However, I am the person who likes to stay with the elders even if sometimes we need their help for some situation. I am fortunate that my grandparents were with me. They consistently bless me. I am very close to my grandmother . She is the most favourite person among all of my family members.

Describe something you have done together.

During evenings or on weekends we used to play some ancient indoor games . This helps us to relax . She also teaches me to cook some sweets and snacks .My grandmother often says that a being girl should know all the household chores. That gives you physical strength too.

Explain why you like that person

While the rest of my family members were busy with their work my grandmother always pampered me.we are constantly on and trying various recipes and experimenting in our kitchen. Though she is an older person she never fails to accept her mistake and apologises for it.

Conclusion:

I always want to be like her, how she is so energetic now also, even though we had a generation gap we would like to spend more time together.
