

IELTS speaking part 2 - Describe a piece of art you like

The cue card topic 'Describe a piece of art you like' is conducted for 3-4 minutes. Usually, the examiner is likely to cut you off in between the questions, so it is highly advisable to keep your answer short and up to the point.

Describe a piece of art you like

What the piece of art is?

Where did you see it?

Describe the piece of art.

Why do you like it so much?

Describe a piece of art you like Model answer and Follow up questions

The model cue card answer for the "Describe a piece of art you like" topic is given and the corresponding IELTS speaking cue card part 3 follow-up questions are also given for reference.

Describe a piece of art you like Model answer 1

Introduction

I have been an appreciator of different forms of art. The theatre is one such form of art that I appreciate the most.

What is the piece of art?

Theatrical performance is a form of collaborative work that conveys meaning via the use of words, voice, physical movement, and visual aspects.

Where did you see it?

My school organized a trip to a theatre a few years ago. I saw a play by Shrimad Rajchandra who was the mentor of Gandhiji.

Describe the piece of art.

The roles played by different people seem to just caught my eye. The actors were a perfect fit for the roles they played. I seriously doubt that there would be anyone who could have conceived such a difficult role.

Why do you like it so much?

I believe when it is done well, a stage play has the ability to whisk the audience away to another place and time. This will result in the creation of unique and powerful energy that the audience can literally feel.

Conclusion

A performance that is in the process of being made is surrounded by a certain unique vibe. Moreover, they are unpredictable since they are a structural experiment. They explore plot structure and they occasionally employ intriguing framing tactics.

Describe a piece of art you like Model answer 2

Introduction

As it is said by the famous artist Leonardo Da Vinci that art is never finished, only abandoned. I would like to talk about the most amazing art, which is the Mona Lisa.

What is the piece of art?

It is a naturalistic and representational style of painting. The art implies that landscape paintings, as well as photographic, abstract, narrative, symbolic, emotional, or Activism styles, are all viable options.

Where did you see it?

My family and I were on a trip to Paris, which is where we saw the famous Mona Lisa painting. My brother is in this profession as well, which helps me to take a good look at this form of art.

Describe the piece of art.

The Mona Lisa resembles Renaissance images of the Virgin Mary, who was a feminine ideal. The woman's upright, folded arms in a "pozzetto" armchair show her guarded posture. Her eyes are fixed on the spectator. The lack of outline makes the woman appear unusually alive. It also has soft mixing giving an unclear mood, particularly in the mouth and eye corners.

Why do you like it so much?

The artist was successful in capturing the ideal facial expression. As a painter myself, I know the work one has to put in every piece to make the painting flawless. It is admirable that the artist was able to make such a stunning painting, which also serves as a source of motivation.

Conclusion

It is a magnificent painting, and anyone interested in art ought to give it their full attention. If one were to examine the specifics that it possesses, they might very simply fill the pages of a book with their findings.

Describe a piece of art you like Model answer 3

Introduction

Faults cannot be corrected after completion, I considered resin art to be the most creative kind of art. It requires a great deal of patience and simultaneously imparts numerous life lessons.

What is the piece of art?

Epoxy resin, a liquid chemical, is blended with various pigments and additives to make a blend of distinct patterns and textures that constitute resin art. The resin mixture eventually hardens to a solid plastic as a chemical interaction between its components takes place.

Where did you see it?

One fine day I was passing the art lab and from the window I saw my teacher was making resin art. The school hours were going on, that is the reason I could not visit my art lab. So I visited and saw the most beautiful piece of the table that my art teacher curated in the art lab of my school.

Describe the piece of art.

When it comes to contemporary luxury art, the table is made of high-quality synthetic material that is robust and has an exquisite and clear water look which was the finest choice. It adapted designs and concepts which can be truly considered out of the world.

Why do you like it so much?

Never in my life have I been more awestruck by seeing a piece of furniture. That creative table was stunning and far beyond the expectations of any and all people! The quality of the craftsmanship was remarkable. It was a truly unique piece that could never be replicated. My buddies and I have started taking images so that we can use them as a reference.

Conclusion

I just want to mention that this type of art is challenging and simple at the same time. Since there are moments when mistakes might look like they're intended, but other times the carefully managed work of art might be wrecked.

Describe a piece of art you like Model answer 4

Introduction

The artist is only expected to use one stroke of the pencil to fill in the colour, sketching is considered to be one of the most challenging forms of art.

What is the piece of art?

The piece of art is Santa Maria Della Neve. It is inconceivable that this drawing of a landscape would have included human figures or symbolism. The pen-and-ink lines drawn over a partially erased pencil sketch are simply drawn as horizontal strokes to suggest tree branches and leaves, and lines following the contours of the landforms suggest the firmness of the earth.

Where did you see it?

During the course of a charity event, a Cyprus group held an exhibition in which they displayed a replica of this work of art.

Describe the piece of art.

These were Leonardo's early haunts, which he explored on lengthy walks across the hills where he lived with his stepmother, paternal grandparents, and uncle Francesco, his first playmate. From a young age, Leonardo collected everything, including little animals, flowers, leaves, and bits of wood with unusual shapes.

Why do you like it so much?

This art was lively, with new tendencies and styles appearing all the time in a rapid succession. Additionally, it connected with the viewer on a more personal level and can be construed in a number of different ways.

Conclusion

The beauty of such work compels one's attention immediately. It is without a doubt something that can be called a feather in the artist's cap.