Describe an occasion when many people were smiling Model answer 1

Introduction

Seeing other people smiling always makes me happy. I also believe that individuals should constantly make an effort to laugh as much as possible, whenever there is a reason to do so because laughter makes us feel joyful and alive.

When did it happen?

It occurred while I was in the twelfth grade. Each year, our school presents an award to a student who excelled academically.

Who were you with?

All students and their parents were invited to this celebration. Consequently, I went with my parents. And all my friends were present with their parents. My parents have always been academically disciplined and have never expected me to receive an award.

What happened?

There were other awards, including Idle student and first-place finisher. Initially, everyone was anxious. After the announcement of the results, everyone was extremely delighted. During the photoshoot, everyone had a smile on their face. In addition, during the award distribution, I was named the student with the least amount of effort and the top student. My mother has always instilled in me the values of vigilance, wisdom, and diligence, which have served me well.

Explain why many people were smiling.

When I received my medals, my professors and parents were so proud that I could see it in their smiles. During that time, I learned so many things that, regardless of whether we received any recognition or not, our parents would always grin with pride.

Conclusion

Consequently, I finally invited several of my friends and family members to a restaurant to commemorate this joyous occasion. Everyone laughed and enjoyed themselves to the utmost extent. We enjoyed our food and laughed at every joke, whether hilarious or not.

Introduction

- In this current era, it is uncommon to witness people laughing and having fun with their families and friends.
- Due to our busy schedules, we are unable to manage our time effectively.
- Nevertheless, there was once a period when we all celebrated in an event and smiled.

When did it happen?

- It occurred a few months ago during Diwali, an Indian festival.
- It is a festive occasion where family and friends enjoy and pray together.

Who were you with?

- On that day, we hosted a grand event to worship God through prayers.
- Due to this event, all my relatives and friends joined together and we all were enjoying ourselves.
- Following the completion of the prayers, we decided to celebrate Diwali with fireworks and organised a large meal for everyone.

What happened?

- After celebrating with firecrackers, we took a group photo in which I noticed everyone enjoying themselves and smiling without any thought of their jobs or stresses in life.
- In addition, while dining in, we all shared our tales and created memories that will last a lifetime.

Explain why many people were smiling.

- The primary cause was that we were all present and enjoying the festival together.
- In addition, it was a typical celebration until it transformed into a family reunion when everyone realised it was impossible to spend time in this manner.

Conclusion

- On that day, everyone was ecstatic about the festival and the time they spent together, and as a result, there were smiles everywhere, and I found it to be a place where there were many smiling faces.

Describe an occasion when many people were smiling Model answer 3

Introduction

It is common knowledge that a smile enhances one's appearance. Recently, I witnessed an extraordinary day in which many individuals were happy.

When did it happen?

The event was the reopening of our schools following the lockdown. It occurred two year ago.

Who were you with?

I was with my professors and classmates.

What happened?

Due to covid 19, the entire country was under lockdown. We all reunited after a lengthy gap. We all breathed a sigh of relief and had huge smiles on our faces.

Explain why many people were smiling.

The primary reason was our shared freedom. Some of the normal activities for college students include attending lectures, dining in the cafeteria, and going on long drives. However, the lockdown eliminated all the joy and excitement in our life. Although we remain linked through social media, we missed face-to-face engagement. Gradually, boredom crept into our life. As a result, life became monotonous. When the college finally opened, we regained our joie de vivre. The entire student body and faculty were in a mood of elation. There was excitement everywhere. The institution had prepared a live band for the students' enjoyment, creating the impression of a festival. Numerous kids shook their legs to the live music. After an extended period, the food court on campus was at capacity.

Conclusion

The reopening ceremony put smiles back on the faces of the pupils and school staff.
