Describe a live sports match that you have watched Model answer 1

Introduction

As a cricket enthusiast, I have an uncanny ability to watch cricket matches. I usually enjoy watching cricket matches from the convenience of my house. On one occasion, I travelled to Mumbai specifically to watch a live cricket match.

What was it?

It was a One Day International match between India and Sri Lanka. It was the World Cup Final which was in the Wankhede Stadium in Mumbai. It was a classic match for team India where they lifted the world cup after 28 years.

When did you watch it?

It was played on the 2nd of April in the year 2011 on Saturday.

What was it like?

The atmosphere inside the stadium was magnificent. The stadium was overcrowded. People from distant nations and competing teams attended the match. In addition, the atmosphere was captivating as everyone chanted Vande Mataram to encourage team India. When India won the game, the audience went completely insane.

And how did you feel about it?

I felt emotionally enriched by the encounter. As I am a huge fan of Mahendra Singh Dhoni, I felt so relieved that once in my lifetime, I watched my idol play such a crucial knock for team India in a final match. Moreover, that match holds great importance as it was the match which was going to decide if Sachin would play in future or not.

Conclusion

The unforgettable experience of that match would forever be imprinted into my memory.

Describe a live sports match that you have watched Model answer 2

Introduction

- Sports play a significant role in everyone's lives, as we all participate in at least one sport.
- It may occur indoors or outdoors.
- In addition to playing, watching sports is a source of extreme entertainment, especially when it is live.
- In all honesty, I prefer playing over watching.
- My favourite sport is football, and Messi is my all-time favourite player.
- I've witnessed his performance in countless televised live bouts.

What was it?

- There was a football game between our institution and St. Stephen's college.
- I was a member of my college squad and excitedly awaited playing in that game.
- However, shortly before the game, I was involved in an accident.
- I did not sustain many injuries, but my right foot swelled up.
- After speaking with my coach, I opted not to participate in the match.
- Nevertheless, I remained at the stadium to watch the game and cheer on my team.

When did you watch it?

- It was a year ago when I was in the last year of my Diploma.

What was it like?

- Due to the fact that the game featured two of the top teams in our city, the stadium was packed.
- After the first half, I went to my team's locker room to give them advice.
- At the beginning of the second half, my team was down by one goal.
- Despite this, we won the game.
- The captain informed me after their victory that my guidance had helped them score three goals.

And how did you feel about it?

- Initially, I was disappointed that I could not join the team.
- But as the game proceeded, I began to appreciate it.
- In addition, I recognised that we can learn about the game by observing it.

Conclusion

- Finally, we celebrated our triumph, and I was pleased to have gained such insight from monitoring the game.

Describe a live sports match that you have watched Model answer 3

Introduction

There is no doubt that sports play an important role in people's lives. In the current modern era, an increasing number of people play a variety of games for this purpose. People prefer both indoor and outdoor sports today. Despite the fact that performing a sport is the ultimate form of entertainment, watching a live sporting event works like a charm.

As a sports fanatic, I enjoy playing sports tremendously. I am a big fan of cricket.

What was it?

It was a cricket match which was held in Wankhede stadium of Mumbai. It was the last match of the legendary batsman Sachin Tendulkar.

When did you watch it?

I remember it was an ODI match in the Asia Cup tournament between India and Pakistan in the year 2012.

What was it like?

The continual cheers of the crowd made the game more exciting. In the middle of the game, I ran across college friends. I joined their group, and we all laughed heartily. It was a day-night match, where the second inning was played under floodlights. At that point, the entire crowd went insane.

And how did you feel about it?

I felt emotionally enriched by the event. On the other hand, I was pleased that I finally had the opportunity to watch Sachin play live cricket. On the other hand, I felt profound sadness because it was his final international cricket match. That day, I learned a crucial lesson: nothing in this world is permanent. Sachin Tendulkar's 24-year international cricket career came to an end on that day. It demonstrates that even good things come to an end. Consequently, we must embrace change in our life. Moreover, in that match I discovered my second idol, Virat Kohli, based on the way he batted and scored 183 runs to win the match for India.

Conclusion

Witnessing the game in person rather than on television made a lasting memory.
