

SOP for undergraduate sample in Cinematography

Cinema is said to be a reflection of the society and helps us to come face to face with the actuality of what's happening in the society. Apart from that It is also a way of showing a new world from the perspective of the director, thus inspiring the other people to broaden their thinking and imagination. Different cultures of the world can be portrayed to us using cinema and teaches a lot about practical life. Being an Indian I have grown seeing a lot of movies directed and acted by legendary people which created more impact on my inside thoughts to become a cinematographer and be one among the successful persons. This led me to think about my hidden talent to improve further and carry ahead in life.

During my schooling without disturbing my academic education I even participated in various events like drama, photography, storytelling activities.. etc.. which increased my interest further. Nowadays the film industry is quite elaborate with various subdivisions like short films, blogs etc.. where we can explore and try our capabilities. These activities played a prominent role in making correct decisions regarding the career.

After pursuing my 12th standard during summer holidays I worked as an intern in xyz film arts banner where I learned a lot about the basics of cinematography and their thought process. This internship experience helped me to identify my skills in photography, movie making etc.. also created an initial path for my future career.

The way the film industry enriches human lives is always a fascinating aspect for me which in fact initiated a great interest to me in this field. To have hands-on experience related to the latest technologies emerging in Film making USA will be the perfect choice to pursue my higher education.

The University has a good number of students from other countries and also has various features like accommodation, food and transport facilities etc.. to make the students comfortable in a new place. Apart from all these the career placements of the alumni students was excellent which interested me more. Thus I have concluded to do my Bachelors degree in this prestigious organisation to gain more knowledge and technical skills from the esteemed faculty.

In today's scenario it is always necessary to upgrade the skills and utilise the same using the latest technologies. The program from this xyz university will help me in understanding the international aspect of the course and its emerging trends. This university will help me in shaping my career completely. After the completion of my program I wanted to return back to my home country and work here to bring a new perspective change in an enhanced way.

It's a privilege and a great joy to apply to the program. I am requesting you to consider my application for the film school which will give me an opportunity to learn many new things related to film making and implement the same with fresh thoughts to bring a new change in the film industry and society.

I strongly believe that I have chosen the right path and a right place to enlighten my career and reach the goal which I have dreamed of.
