

SOP Sample for undergraduates- Computer Science Engineering

The birth of the latest technologies in the world has made life better with many conveniences. Information Technology is very crucial because it deals with many dynamic things around the world.

My keen interest in the area of technology developed because of the utilisation of the latest gadgets and my parents coming from IT background has made me pursue computer science engineering. From my secondary school I developed a lot of interest in knowing about the latest technologies, emerging trends in software development, gaming etc.

I strongly believe that in the coming generations latest technologies like artificial intelligence, etc. will change the face of the world and many issues can be solved using science and technology. This created a huge impact on me and had created a passion to learn new technologies and implement the same with the ease of access to all. I am glad to know that this University is offering the course with the latest curriculum which will be dealt with by renowned scholars.

I hope to get an opportunity to study in this prestigious university under the guidance of esteemed faculty which helps me to acquire knowledge to create new things to make me stand out of the crowd.
